Unit 542 Handle referred customer complaints

UAN: K/601/1524

Level: 4

Credit value: 10

GLH: 67

Aim

However effectively customer service is organised, customers make complaints from time to time. In some organisations, it is simply a matter of procedure for all complaints to be handled by particular people. Sometimes, front-line staff or supervisors can deal with these complaints; often however more senior staff must deal with the complaint. This is either because of the severity of the complaint and its implications for the organisation, or because the customer will accept the solution only if it is dealt with at a senior level. This may require someone with the authority and influence to adapt existing policies and procedures to find an acceptable solution. It is also important for this person to explore patterns and trends in significant complaints and recommend changes to policies and procedures to avoid repetition.

Knowledge of outcomes

You will be guided by your tutor and assessor on the evidence that needs to be produced. Your knowledge and understanding will be assessed using the assessment methods listed below:

- Projects

Unit 543 Use customer service as a competitive tool

UAN: D/601/1228

Level: 3

Credit value: 8

GLH: 53

Aim

Customer service contributes to an organisation's competitive position. Customers of many organisations have choice about the services or products they use and who supplies them. Often the technical features and cost of the service or product are almost identical. If this is the case, the quality of the customer service offered makes all the difference about which supplier the customer chooses. This unit is about how the learner can play their part in ensuring that their organisation makes the best possible use of the competitive advantage that can be gained from offering superior customer service. It covers how the learner can use customer service as a tool to compete effectively with other providers of similar services and product. The unit is not for a learner whose organisation does not compete actively with others.
